IIT JEE

The name itself strikes terror in the minds of lakhs of high school teenagers all over India. A lot of things are written and said about the JEE but analyze the most common thing said

The Myth

The exclusive rights to clear the JEE go to highly deep thinking "nerds" who study 8 hours a day whose only aim in life is to cram as many books as they can in the "least" possible time.

The Fact

- Here are a few facts about the JEE: It is a combined entrance test for admissions to the prestigious IITs, IIT-BHU Varanasi and IIT-Dhanbad along with a few other institutions.
- Eligibility: A minimum of 75% in CBSE (Top 20 Percentile in State Board) aggregate marks in the 12th board examination are required for selection in any IIT. You can give the exam only twice: Just after your 12th standard exams and the second exactly one year later.
- The pattern: The JEE pattern might well be the most variable thing on this planet. It is rightly said that the changing pattern is the only constant thing in the JEE. So don't take anybody's word for it, except for the JEE website itself.
